To The Anonymous Coward at One of Our Client Companies

We were disturbed and sickened that our work was used to attack a recent recipient of the AOTL Award. We would normally never intervene in the internal politics of one of our clients but since our name was used and the name of one of our Distributors was used and lies were told about our comments so that the anonymous coward's agenda could be forwarded, we had to speak up. No company and no manager are perfect. We try to speak frankly and candidly about the weaknesses as well as the strengths of our clients when we train. An individual used what we said out of context to attack one of the most courageous leaders we have ever worked with. You also spoke as if you knew our intent and you are wrong, your cynicism disgusts me. It must suck to live in your head everyday.

Our AOTL Award winner is not perfect, he makes mistakes just like the rest of us. But let me be clear, from my 30 years of experience no one has ever cared more about his people than he does. No one has ever worked harder to get the best possible resources for his people. He has to convince layers of management through very different cultural norms to do the right thing. It is not easy for any one to work for management from a different culture. It is challenging to say the least. He never gave up. It is so easy to sit on the sidelines and critique
